CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
"Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations."
These words of the Psalmist are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

One of the Scriptural citations in the Lesson-Sermon presents the words of Christ Jesus, from Matthew: "Lay not up for yourselves treasure upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

Among the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, are the statements: "To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to Spirit. The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning."

Father and Son Dinner Served At Christian Ch.

Special Event for Men Is Planned For Next Tuesday Evening

The revival services at the First Christian church are attracting exceptionally large audiences. The last three nights capacity crowds have filled both the main auditorium of the church and the annex, in spite of the fact that many people were out of the city for the holiday.

"Interesting features always attract," said Rev. George Elder in explaining the reason for the exceptional attendance, "and the Kellems party knows how to put up the interesting features. For instance, there is no finer artist on the pulpits platforms of America today than Mrs. Ruth Faye Kellems, who draws a beautiful colored scene each night at the meetings. Her pictures are eagerly sought after the country over, and competition for the free one she gives away each night here is exceedingly keen. Another feature that attracts many to the revival services is the showing of travel pictures from various parts of the world by Evangelist Homer Kellems. These are pictures he has taken himself, and are as fine as most professional photographers could secure. While in Torrance Mr. Kellems is taking many photographs of individuals and places to use as he travels over the world. This coming week he expects to take pictures of many of the business houses and owners and employees to show upon the screen at the local Christian church as well as elsewhere."

The revival is to continue in Torrance for at least two more weeks. Evangelist Kellems' sermon subjects already announced are as follows: Thursday—"Does the Bible Contradict Itself?" Sunday—"Seven Baths in Muddy Water." Saturday—no service, rest night. Sunday morning—"A Sermon By Christ." Sunday evening—"Why Be a Christian Only?" Monday—"The Evidence of Paradox." Tuesday—"A Dad and His Lad."

Next Tuesday night is to be a special night in the revival for fathers and their sons. Shortly after 6 o'clock fathers and sons will sit down to dinner together in the dining room of the church, and more than 100 are expected to be in attendance. No charge is being made for the dinner, but fathers and mothers are furnishing the things needed for the menu. As last year, when more than 100 men and boys gathered together for a good time, so this year the dinner will be marked by a good time with music and interesting stunts. A section will be reserved at the evening revival service for all fathers and sons who will attend. Evangelist Kellems will preach his popular special message, "A Dad and His Lad," and pictures appropriate to the occasion will be shown upon the screen.
